Monthly Recognition

By: Angelica Zurn

Kid of the Month:

Angelo Dimeo

Angelo was chosen for working hard to show a positive attitude and to make great choices.

Jr. Staff of the Month: Malia Guillory

Malia was chosen because she was very helpful with many younger club members. She is a great example to them.

What are Jr. Staff?

By: Malia Guillory and
Angelica Zurn

The jr. staff are role models to the younger club members. We help out with the younger kids when the staff members need help. We remind other club members of the rules when they're doing something wrong. We also play games with them. We help them with their homework. The most important thing of all is we write this newsletter.

Club Interview

By: Connor McInnes

I interviewed Eve Goldman and Malia Guillory who are both club members at Ocean Knoll. I asked them how long they have known each other, and they said about two years. I asked them what they liked the best about the Boys & Girls Club. Eve said, "Everyone is sweet, and everyone is kind. During the holidays, we always do something extra fun!" Malia answered, "It's just fun to hangout with my friends and with Jenny, Lexi, and Ashley."

Review of National Boys & Girls Club Week

(March 24th-March 28th)

By: Victor Silverman

What is National Boys & Girls Club Week?

It is a traditional week for the Boys & Girls Club to engage in various themed activities. Each day has a theme and a color assigned to it, and club members get a prize for wearing the color each day. Two or more special and themed activities are planned for club members to participate in.

On Monday, our events revolved around art. We had a great time making the Boys & Girls Club banner with everyone's beautiful drawings. There was also an art competition with prizes for the winners, who were Ava Bauer, Eve Goldman, and Angelica Zurn.

Great job, girls!

On Tuesday, we had a great time participating in the art of dance. We created our own dance videos, and then we had a dance competition. It was really intense! The winners were Hector Benitez, Nathan Silverman, and Elsa Neve.

Wednesday was our day celebrating academic excellence. We held a Math Olympics, and club members raced their own grade level competitors. They participated in timed math worksheets and whoever got the most correct won for their grade level and got a prize. Only one person finished the whole thing and got 100%! It was me (Victor)...not to brag! 😊

Thursday, we dedicated the day to science. Club members were able to work as scientists to create their own ice cream using basic ingredients, and they also participated in an invisible ink experiment.

On Friday, we held a club Olympics where we set records for hula hoop, fastest lap, jump rope, and sit-ups. Club members had a great time competing against one another in these friendly games!

Read-A-Thon

By: Isabella Martens

The Boys and Girls Club is hosting a Read-A-Thon, and we needed your help to raise money because we are trying to get a new gaming system. This is how it works: we get a form, and on the back there is a chart you have to fill out with sponsors. There are prizes for club members who get the most. The reading will take place during club hours because you have to be supervised by a staff. Hope that you

Healthy Habits

By: CJ Arteaga and Hector Benitez

Each week on Wednesdays, we write on note cards to vote on a physical activity. However, we have changed our program to involve more sports and better participation. If club members do not participate, they have to run a lap or cheer for a team.

Thank you for reading! See you next month!
